

ABOUT

British electronic music producer currently residing in France. Jason Roberts the man behind Seven Below Zero has a insatious passion for electronic music spanning 30 years. Stepping up late in the game he is now producing ambient cinematic music on the experimental side. Some of the highlights from 2018-2019 include hitting over 7000 fans on his facebook page, 5000 radio plays on the Drooble network. Continually working on the social media side of promotions has brought positive feedback.

Current Project:

Working on a 24 track album called "Burn Out Planetaire" which will be a journey into cinematic, ambient and electronic music. Inspiration for this album comes from the misuse of our planet, global warming and the abuse of our wild life. The album promo tracks are below.
